

Your Organization Presents Fred Miller

The Fear of Public Speaking Why? And Nuggets to Lessen It with - NO SWEAT!

Fred E. Miller is a speaker, a coach, and an author.

The title of his first book is: "NO SWEAT Public Speaking!"

It is being bought internationally and getting rave reviews on Amazon.com.

Locally he's been interviewed by:

Don Marsh on KWMU's "St. Louis on the Air."

Fox News's anchor John Pertzborn.

KMOK radio host Mark Reardon.

KSDK's Art Holliday

Many people find climbing the career ladder, or succeeding in one's own business, usually means doing some speaking in front of groups. It's a credibility builder.

However, because of the Fear of Public Speaking, it's an activity many dread.

It consistently ranks as one of the most common fears people share and holds many back from reaching their potential - personally and professionally.

If you have this fear, or just want to be a better presenter, he has a message for you.

His talk addresses this fear and is titled:

"The Fear of Public Speaking - Why? And Nuggets to Lessen It with - NO SWEAT!"
